Strain of Ocean Voy-

Woman.

BY DAVID P. SENTNER

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—

(INS)—General Charles
Gates Dawes, United States ambassador to Great Britain and the "man behind the peace guns" in the disarmament negotiations between President Hoover and Premier Ramsay MacDonald, arrived here today aboard the Ile de France for a brief stay and disappointed an army of reporters at the pier by declining to discuss the Anglo-American peace negotiations or the part he played in leading up to them.

Dawes Silent on "Business"

Also aboard the liner was Mme.
Curie, the "grandmother of science," co-discoverer of radium, who has come here to obtain another gram of the precious substance for use in her experimentation.

Mme. Curie was willing to talk, but as she explained in a statement prepared for presentation to reporters, her "physical condition" precluded the possibility of talking to reporters. The strain of the journey had told on the aged woman scientist, and she expressed her regret at being forced to remain in her stateroom.

Ambassador Dawes played the role of the experienced diplomat, and although he is unanimously

What Her Money Did.
Mussolini and Solon.
What Is Life? No Answer.
Why Submarines?

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

A WOMAN eighty years old is found dead in an apartment for which she paid $12 a month, very little in a big city.
Miss Brandt, who brought her a kind of hot soup every day, found the body, called the police.

Detectives found hidden in the apartment, $400,000 in bills, gold, silver, bonds and bank accounts.

EVERY one asks "what good did all her money do her?"

Thousands of old people will answer: "Great good. It kept her from worry in her old age, and allowed her to die in peace."

Few realize the bitterness of poverty, as years creep on, and strength and friends fade away.

"That old woman's money brought her just one thing—INDEPENDENCE and nothing could be more precious."

MUSSOLINI says he relinquishes seven portfolios, important places in the Italian government to create a machine that will keep Italy going "when I can no longer guide it."

This indicates that the dictator does not take the royal family seriously, as a governing machine.
But he has treated that family loyally, preserving its constitutional rights, and showing all respect to the king, whom he doubtless regards as a necessary part of government paraphernalia.

TO understand Mussolini, consider Draco, Solon, and others of the law-making type more recent.
Mussolini is their racial descendant.
He asks himself what laws the people need, invents and promulgates them.

Draco punished great and little crimes with death "because the lesser crimes deserved death, and he had no greater penalty for the great crimes."

SOLON, asked if he had given Athens the best laws that could be given, said he had given the Athenians "the best laws they could receive." He knew and allowed for the weaknesses of human beings, as does Mussolini. He would not hesitate to repeal existing laws, as Solon did, cancel debts, make spe-

FLOOD WATERS INVADE MIAMI

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 15.—(INS)— Like a thin ice glacier, a lake of flood waters draining from the Everglades, today was descending upon Miami and its vicinity.

The lake was formed when the high waters crept over the banks of the Miami canal which has already reached a flood stage at Hialeah, a suburb of Miami, and inundated hundreds of acres of land.
Many persons in the low residential sections of Hialeah have been forced to abandon their homes while the town itself faced complete isolation should the rampant waters break through the west dykes of the canal.

EXTRA FARE INQUIRY CALLED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—
An investigation of the railroad in addition to the regularly prescribed railroad and Pullman fares, was ordered today by the Interstate commerce commission. It will include nearly all the railroads of the country.

500 Women Attend Free Cooking School

Mrs. Frances North-cross Lectures at Opening of Review
Course in Eagles' Auditorium.

Five hundred women attended the opening session of the Review's four-day free cooking school in the Eagles' auditorium, Broadway, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Frances Northcross, Chicago, cooking and housekeeping expert, who will conduct the school, was introduced by Mayor Ralph C. Benedum. An hour's program of music preceded her lecture.

With the use of kitchen equipment on the stage of the auditorium, Mrs. Northcross demonstrated the making of tasty dishes.
She explained each step in the demonstration. Printed recipes were distributed among the women guests.

The following dishes were prepared at today's session: Pot roast, corn muffins, white sauce, chocolate steam pudding, marsh mallow sauce, salted nuts, flaky pastry, meat loaf, pumpkin pie, coconut cake, lightning layer cake, tea and sandwiches.

Lecturer's Methods Please.

The method of conducting the lecture seemed to please every body. There was no cut and dried procedure that so often makes similar occasions tiresome. As Mrs. Northcross demonstrated each recipe, she explained the essential features, offered timely kitchen and housekeeping tips were explained. Kitchen tools, oven-heat control, refrigerating temperatures, space-saving furnishings and labor-saving devices were stressed in the kitchen and the necessity for colorful and simple arrangement of china, ware, silver and flowers.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The French cabinet today decided to accept Great Britain's invitation to discuss proposed five-power naval conference to be held in London in the early part of next year.

The decision of Premier Briand's cabinet was expected but nevertheless soothed uneasiness in certain diplomatic quarters.

The conference opened at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon with scripture and prayer by the Rev.
E. C. Brooks, pastor of Boyce church. Then followed the keynote sermon of the conference by the Rev. J. F. Stewart, of Jew who spoke on the Christly affirmation: "I am the way." He indicated that Jesus Christ was the way which, traveled, made for that designated as Christianity.

bill and doubts its wisdom.
The dries are split wide open—some, like Sheppard, contending that it is the logical next step, and others, like Barton, fearing that it will cause such a revulsion of feel-as to seriously menace the maintenance of Volsteadism, the main statute books. They fear it is so drastic that "the country won't

ONE SLAIN, TWO SHOT IN FIGHT

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 15.—

One man was shot and killed and two other men, one a city police officer, were wounded slightly during a street brawl here early today.

An innocent bystander, Walter
B. Moore, 24, is the dead man. Patrolman William McMillan, 36, and William Parr, 31, were wounded.

Four persons, including two men, were taken to the county jail following the fight, which is said to have started when Mrs. Jane Parr, 24, complained that a group of men had attacked her.

Patrolman McMillan, who was in civilian clothes at the time, was attracted to the scene. Mrs. Parr's husband, William, according to the officer's formal report, turned and started to fight with the patrolman.

In the ensuing struggle, McMillan drew his revolver. It became discharged as both fought for it.
Moore was shot as he was alighting from a taxicab. A second shot wounded both McMillan and Parr.

TARIFF EXPERT TELLS DUTY FIGHT STORY

W. E. Wells Hits
Statement Made by
F. L. Koch.

BURGESS NAMED

Brands Untrue Report
That Dismissal
Asked.

W. E. Wells, secretary-treasurer of the Homer Laughlin China company and recognized spokesman of the American pottery industries, today, denied the charge made in Washington at the opening of the senate's lobby inquiry, that ceramic interests were seeking the dismissal of Frederick L. Koch, as chief of the ceramic division of the United States tariff commission.
Wells' Statement.

The statement of Wells, a tariff expert, was prompted by Washington news dispatches to the effect that Koch had charged William Burgess, Trenton, N. J., first vice-president of the United States Pottery association, with "trying to get me fired" because of the data which Koch is alleged to have furnished congress in its tariff investigation.

"No effort was made by Mr.
Burgess to have Koch dismissed," Wells said. "We do, however, charge Koch with co-operating with Japanese importers to the detriment of the efforts of American manufacturers for a protective tariff."

Koch Blames Burgess.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—
A story of how the pottery industry is alleged to have sought the dismissal of an expert from the United States tariff commission because he told the truth to congress, was revealed today at the opening session of the senate's lobby inquiry.

Frederick L. Koch, chief of the ceramic division of the commission, charged the pottery industry with trying to get him fired because of the data he gave to congress. He blamed William Burgess, former commissioner, now representing the United States Pottery association, with leading the fight for his dismissal.

"The startling fact," Koch told the senate committee, "was that Mr. Burgess admitted my facts were not incorrect, but he complained that they were detrimental to the pottery industry."

"They had no complaint to find with the facts I gave congress but argued I shouldn't have given them."

"Mr. Burgess wanted you dismissed because you told the truth?"

CUBS SAD AS THEY ENTRAIN

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 15.— Farewells were spoken today as the Cubs, beaten four times in five starts against the Athletics, returned from the world series, some of them not to meet again until next February when they assemble for spring training.

There was sadness throughout the ranks as they contemplated their homecoming from the wars, all of them cognizant of the fact that no brass band would be in the reception line. In the main, McCarthy and his wards seemed eager to get back to Chicago.

There were no allbbs. The Cubs realized they had been beaten on the level, and they all seemed inclined to call it a year and forget.

HOME FIRED, LOSS IS $7,000

ROCHESTER, Pa., Oct. 15.—State fire marshals investigating the destruction of the home of Charles Malagisi in Rochester township in a fire which followed an explosion declare the fire was of incendiary origin. The Malagisi family was visiting in Youngstown, O., at the time. The force of the explosion rattled windows in the vicinity of the house and the home of Mrs. Josephine Bango, nearby, was set on fire, and she was compelled to flee with her family scantily clad. Rochester township firemen saved the Bango home. The loss to Malagisi is estimated at $7,000. Several fires of incendiary origin have occurred in this township within the past few months.

No Harm in Pure Cascara

Whenever a coated tongue, bad breath, disordered stomach or general "run-down" feeling tell you Nature needs a little help in promoting normal elimination you can take a Cascaret without any fear of unpleasant after effects. Cascarets are a pure vegetable product, made from Cascara Sagrada, a substance which unquestionable authorities say actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

That's why you can take these pleasant-tasting tablets as often as you please—and give them freely to children or old folks. They are not habit-forming, like so many laxatives; they make it unnecessary to use violent purgatives that upset the system and soon call for more.

Cascarets are sweetened with pure cane sugar and flavored with licorice; you simply eat them like candy. Then sleep right on while they are preparing your intestinal tract for a thorough cleansing in the morning. Cascarets never cause discomfort or that nauseous feeling usually associated with laxatives.

The next time you have that bilious, headachy, dejected feeling that comes from a disordered stomach—or for any reason you suspect liver and bowels are not functioning just right—take a candy Cascaret.

Paper Money Has Value! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

An ancient prejudice nursed the ignorant fear and distrust of paper money. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE inspires the faith which completely accepts the printed obligation. In the interest of convenience and safety, its use is universal.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

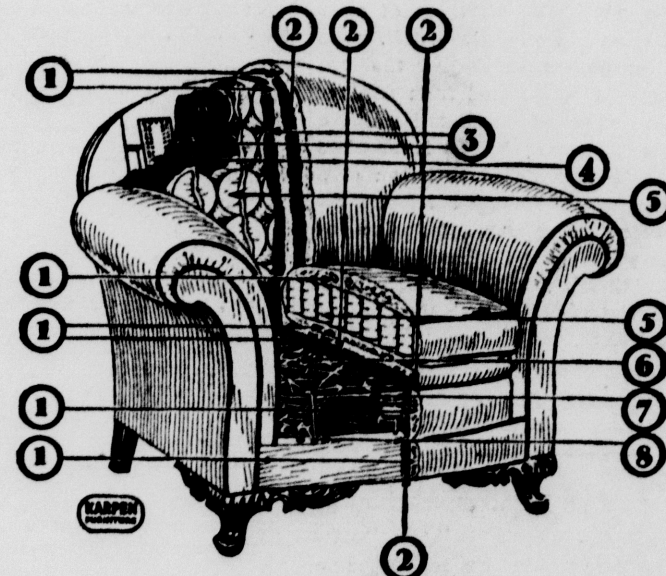

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Hail, The Champions!

Fifteen-year ambition of Connie Mack, 67-year-old pilot of the Philadelphia American league team, became a reality yesterday afternoon, when the Athletics, as his former White Elephants are now known, won the 1929 world's baseball series.

No person among the 30,000 fans, including President Herbert Hoover who made the trip from Washington to be present at the show-down, was happier than the elongated, lean manager when Bink Miller smashed a two-base hit to the scoreboard, bringing home Al Simmons with the winning run of the fifth and deciding game of the classic with the Chicago Cubs.

As a result of this spectacular ninth inning rally, in which the fighting Athletics, for the second time in as many days, came from behind to tie and then win, the populace of the City of Brotherly Love went wild and Cornelius smiled with joy. For it meant the realization of his hopes for another world title before Father Time would demand his withdrawal from the national pastime.

Not since 1913 had the chieftain of the Philadelphia Americans, who is considered one of the smartest managers in the major leagues, tasted victory in a post-season baseball series. Back in 1914 he "wrecked" his pennant winner after bowing in defeat to the Boston Braves in the world's series. And in the interim, with the World war, by reasons of its inroads, delaying the procedure, he gradually whittled into shape the team that today has won the highest honors in baseball.

Although the Chicago Cubs, piloted by Joseph McCarthy, who, like Mack, lives in Philadelphia, won but one game in the five battles, there was no disgrace in their defeat. After losing two games at Wrigley field, they staged a comeback in the third battle at Shibe park and were turned back, by a twist of fate, after seemingly having the fourth clash within their grasp. And yesterday they went into the final inning with a two-run advantage, thanks to the master pitching of Pat Malone. But the Athletics never quit fighting, and as a result victory perched on their banner. It was a clean-cut triumph for Philadelphia, and once more put to rest skeptics who had pictured a see-sawing of victories until the seventh game.

Motorists Face Trouble

Approximately 200,000 Ohio motor car drivers are due for an unpleasant surprise when they apply for the 1930 automobile license plates. The secretary of state has let it be known that this number will be refused the state's authority to operate cars.

The reason is that they have failed to make proper transfer of their tags to cars purchased since obtaining the 1929 license plates. The estimate of the number of violators of the license law provisions was arrived at through comparison of the number of transfers recorded with motor car sales reports.

Through a system which the secretary of state has put into effect it will be possible to tell, when a motorist applies for new tags, whether the tags now in use were illegally transferred from one car to another. This year when tag transfers have been authorized the words "transfer issued" is stamped on the bill of sale. If it happened to be an original bill of sale the words "license issued" are stamped thereon. If neither stamp appears on the bill of sale and the purchase date thereon is prior to Dec. 21, this year, then a new license will be refused until the applicant complies with the law and pays the transfer fee of $1.

The secretary of state estimates that the new system will produce nearly $200,000 in additional revenue for the state.

Mellon Rumors Squelched

Following a conference between President Hoover and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon comes the announcement that Mr. Mellon will continue to hold the treasury portfolio until the end of the present Hoover administration.

If nothing intervenes to prevent Mr. Mellon from continuing as the head of the treasury department until March 4, 1933, it will add another distinction to two he has already attained—that of having served longer as secretary of the treasury than any man in our history as a nation. The two previous distinctions attained by him are those of being the only secretary of the treasury under three presidents—a splendid tribute in itself—and of being the best head of the treasury department since the foundation of the government.

We read much and hear much of Alexander Hamilton as an ideal secretary of the treasury, but we seriously question if the glamour which times casts has not had its effect in heightening appreciation of him, genius that he admittedly was. At the best, the problems which he faced were trivial compared with those the present secretary has had to meet, not the least of which have been the attacks for political ends waged against him by interests unable to "use" him. Through all of these he has come smiling.

It is to be hoped that the White House announcement will make plain to the guilty ones the utter uselessness of the almost monthly reports of the secretary's resignation.

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.—The outbreaks of rioting in prisons, attempted jail deliveries, and various similar disturbances which have marked the last few months to an almost unprecedented degree lend special interest to a study just completed by the department of commerce on prison industries. The department has no jurisdiction over such industries but undertook the study from the point of view of commerce. It was the outcome of a conference held by Herbert Hoover, as secretary of commerce, in December, 1928.

Prison labor has been a problem for centuries. Its importance and difficulty of handling have increased in the modern industrial era, first, because the human conscience has insisted upon prison reform, embodying better treatment of convicts and, second, because the products of prison labor have become a factor in the highly organized fabric of modern trade.

That the recent prison outbreaks have been caused by aggravated discontent is generally accepted. To secure no one expects a prisoner to be contented; if he were, the whole object of incarceration would be missed as the element of punishment would be lacking. But modern penology insists that the prisoner's lot should be made somewhat more endurable by giving him something to occupy his time. This is by no means solely in the interest of the prisoner. Prison terms vary in duration but the average is shortening. Therefore, with the thought in mind that the prisoner is to resume his place as a member of society, penologists insist that it is in the public interest to assist the convict by giving him an occupation which will tend to restore his usefulness and, in most cases, increase it, for example by teaching him a trade.

The time has passed when civilized nations send their convicts to the galleys, caring nothing whatever for their welfare. It used to be expected rather than otherwise that a man, once sent to the galleys or other penal labor for any considerable term, never would reappear as a member of society. The work, food and housing combined to produce such a degree of hardship that few survived. There was reason for that attitude because, not so long ago, no one wanted a convict back again and no one was willing to help him. But with shortening terms and, especially in this country, with the tremendous increase in the number of laws under which a man may be sent to jail on technicalities, also with improved sanitary and other conditions in penal institutions, the expectation is the other way; that is, that the man will come back. Every year many sentences are shortened by executive clemency; many sentenced to life terms even, reappear. So it has become increasingly important for the governmental agencies to attempt to bring back an improved individual rather than a confirmed criminal.

This fresh study of the problem takes up and examines various solutions. Some industrial leaders have advocated the abandonment of employment of prison labor in the manufacture of articles entering into commerce. This has been tried and convicts have been sent to penal colonies on islands and other isolated places. The results have been deplorable.

Another suggested remedy is the confining of production to articles used by the state government, having convicts, for example, make all the shoes used by the state militia, the road building machinery, etc. Such a plan discriminates against private industry.

A third plan is to enact legislation forbidding the sale of prison goods below the fair market price for commercially made goods. This involves public price fixing with attendant evils. Further there are objections to the plan, now in use in some states, providing that prison-made goods, selling at a lower price, must be so marked in order that the customer may know that he is getting the advantage, on certain articles, of low-cost production.

One of the most practical suggestions, in the opinion of the department, is wider diversification of the kinds of articles made in prisons. This would make the proportion of prison-made brooms or shirts, for instance, to the total production so small that private trade would not feel the competition nor would prison warehouses be glutted with large quantities of goods slow in selling.

Wages paid prisoners usually are very small and do not accrue until a certain amount of unpaid work has been performed. Because of this low labor cost, the fact that the institution costs are paid for by the taxpayers, that no taxes or other overhead have to come out of cost of production, and a variety of other factors, prison goods obviously can far undersell the products of private enterprises.

Q. What were the first words reproduced on a phonograph? J. V. M.

A. Thomas A. Edison says that the first words reproduced were those of the first verse of "Mary had a little lamb."

Q. Is clover seed used in the making of dye? P. H. G.

A. The Bureau of Chemistry and Soils says that despite rumors to this effect, it has not found a single manufacturer who utilizes this material in making dyes. In general, dyeable colors are very fugitive to light and washing.

Q. Why was rye more important in colonial America than it is now? R. S.

A. Rye was more important to colonial America than it is to the present-day Americans, because the colonials cultivated it. While they were still living in Europe their main cereals were rye and oats. Naturally when they came to the new country they brought with them these two grains. Over here they found corn or Indian maize. The portion of North America which was first settled was not particularly suitable for the raising of wheat.

Q. Does a person leaping from a height, lose consciousness before reaching the ground? E. F.

A. A person falling from a great elevation does not necessarily lose consciousness before reaching the ground. This popular belief was exploded in 1928 by a series of experiments conducted by army fliers.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Frank Ward O'Malley, writing in the old Sun, is credited with giving that salty strip bounded by 5th and 10th avenue and Herald Square and Columbus Circle the title "The Roaring Forties." It is a phrase from windjammer sailing days and is fitting for the messy turmoil that district calls life.

It literally roars—in a monotonous but mostly in a fierce jangle. The hubbub begins with the rumble of milk wagons at 5 a. m. People several blocks away can hear its incessant cacophony. It plays a conspicuous part in promoting Manhattan's perpetual hypochondria.

It is a curious medley as distinct as the "cries of London." Madly claxoning motor horns, the screech of the elevated's steel against steel, the bump of surface cars, the doleful drone of subway, the shrill shouts of newsmen—echoing and reverberating through the deep canyons.

Strangers landing in this midtown confusion require days to adjust themselves. Some never do. New Yorkers on trips from home are often accused of being loud of speech. They usually are but it is a natural result of pitching voices high to be heard above the din.

The 40's do not simmer down to a hum until long after midnight. Perhaps the noisiest period of all is the after-theater hour. When the full finally comes, it brings out the strange shuffling creatures that are a part of the Broadway night—furtive, fever-eyed, shadowy.

In the tumult the serene yet hardest-boiled block is on the W. 44th street between 5th and 6th avenues, dotted with theatrical inns, chop houses, speak easies and beauty parlors. The women are glossy taut with that isolation of ladies who have loved only love.

Under hotel canopies and on rooming house steps the hurries and small time trowsers collect and often chat until the pink of dawn. In the doorways sleep those raggy gutter nomads whose lives are whetted to a sharpness on the city's flagstones.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Recently an interesting report was made by Dr. Marguerite Gauger, of Teachers College Institute of Child Welfare Research, concerning the feeding of children.

This report deals with experiments made with a group of children ranging in age from eighteen months to a little more than three years. Knowing the difficulty many parents have in feeding their children, these experts worked along this line, hoping to solve the problem.

The average child may be said to be emotional and temperamental. What they will eat today they will refuse tomorrow. It was found that eating was made easier by following a daily routine without conversation about the food, or coercion in eating. After a while they learned to take food as a matter of course, thus proving that much of the difficulty for certain foods was overcome in early life.

Nothing is more difficult than to induce a child to eat the things he does not want. Sometimes children will take a food distasteful to him by promises of a reward. This is not good practice. It sets a bad example and the bribing must be increased and often repeated.

The Job in the White House.

It probably is just a story, but the following may illustrate in a degree the strain of the job in the White House. It is related that President Hoover said to a friend that he would like to have the privilege of hanging two men every year without being required to explain why the victims had been selected. "But would that be a sufficient number?" was the inquiry. Mr. Hoover replied: "Perhaps not, but still I could get word to 25 or 30 that they were being considered."

It is a good story, of course, full of punch and humor, but its greatest merit lies in the suggestion that the chief executive of the nation is always subjected to annoyances from which he ought to be free by common consent of the American people in whose interest he is serving.

For the most part it is believed that the people recognize the responsibilities on the shoulders of the president. There are thousands of visitors in Washington who make no effort to force themselves into the presence of the chief executive at the White House. But there are others who consumed with curiosity, pull the wires available to gain this coveted privilege. Perhaps if Mr. Hoover could hang two persons a year one of them would symbolize the cranks who insist upon going to the White House when they have no real business there.

It is just a guess of course, but in all likelihood that other victim would represent congress, whence many gratuitous harps are aimed at the chief executive. Few presidents have served without incurring the disfavor of some one in congress, and Mr. Hoover certainly is not an exception.—Sioux City Journal.

Inter-American Air Lines.—The exploits of Colonel Lindbergh have so caught the imaginative and romantic side of American nature that the sound practicality of his feats is often overlooked. Every one views with sentimental approval the Caribbean exploits of Lindy and Anne. But Lindbergh this time has done much more than make a gesture. The Lindbergh good-will tour of Latin America shortly after the Atlantic flight had its value in promoting friendship between North and Central and South America. The present flight around the rim of the Caribbean is likely to be of far greater value, inasmuch as our most famous flier is definitely blazing an airway for mail and passenger transportation.

Mail communication between North and South America is almost inconceivably slow. In many cases, it is said, quicker delivery is to be had by routing mail from South America to the northern ports by way of Europe. The service which Lindbergh will follow eventually will extend branches into the interior of South America, will make it possible for commercial messages to be rapidly exchanged.

North America is spending a great deal of money to improve the markets in Latin America. Under present conditions much of this money is bound to go to waste, effective competition with European countries is made difficult and the cause of intercontinental amity is gravely hindered.

Praise is due to Colonel Lindbergh for practical industry as well as for intrepid spirit.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

LARDNER STORY AT AMERICAN

"Fast Company." Paramount's

version of a famous Ring Lardner story opened at the American theater last night as the main feature of the first half of the week.

This is a fast-moving comedy romance containing all the brilliant humor originally injected into the story (one of the "You Know Me Al" series) by the author, and all the additional glamor which the camera alone can contribute to a play of this thrilling type.

Jack Oakie, young comedian who has risen to movie prominence in little more than a year, plays the blundering, boastful small-town boy who makes good in "Fast Company." He is the hero of the play. Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, another comedian whose success in films is commensurate with Oakie's, plays the part of Oakie's personal manager, Evelyn Brent and Gwen Lee, as a pair of teamed actresses, provide the feminine side of the love-interest.

The original Lardner story was called "Hurry Kane." A Broadway stage play, based on the story, and called "Elmer the Great" brought unstinted praise to Lardner and to Walter Huston, who is now acting for Paramount with great success. "Fast Company" is the film version based on the original story and the play.

Ring Lardner's baseball characters have been recognized as the "real thing" by fans and literary critics alike for years. The picture, "Fast Company," is an able exponent of the spirit and feeling of the creators of these characters.

30 STARS EXCEL IN REVUE HIT

A new era in motion picture entertainment, in fact, dawned in a blaze of glory at the Ceramic theater last night, when "The Hollywood Revue," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's stupendous cinematic combination of the variety, musical comedy and revue stages, was presented to an entranced and delighted audience.

This is a motion picture that has equal proportions of eye and ear entertainment, and it is the first motion picture to be absolutely devoid of plot, yet thoroughly interesting and exciting from the first reel to the last. It has no plot because it is a series of skits, songs, dances and chatter, just a melange of the sort of stuff out of which the high-priced "Follies," "Scandals," "Vanities," and "Passing Shows," of the Broadway theaters are built. And this picture offers more even than do those attractions. For in its concoction went all the added advantages of perspective, angles, breadth, expanse and imagination that can be utilized in the making of a picture and which are absolutely impossible on the stage. It also boasts an enormous cast of such star names that any one of them alone would be enough to insure the ordinary picture's success.

Almost 30 stars of stage and screen appear in its cast. Almost a score of new songs and melodies are introduced, each one of them bound to be hummed and whistled throughout the land. It boasts some startling scenic and screen effects, many of them in color and many bizarre photographic innovations that delight and astound. Its ensembles and choruses would bankrupt the ordinary musical show. Its tempo of dance, song and comedy is fast, furious and breath-taking. Altogether it's an entertainment that comes seldom in a lifetime and lives long in the memory.

Such stars as Marion Davies, John Gilbert, Joan Crawford, Bessie Love, Norma Shearer, Buster Keaton, Charles King, Marie Dressler, Natacha Nattova, Anita Page, Polly Moran, Laurel and Hardy, Karl Dane, George K. Arthur, the Albertina Rasch Ballet, Cliff (Ukelele) Edwards, Lionel Barrymore, the Rounders, Gus Edwards, Conrad Nagel, Jack Benny and others, too numerous to mention, all take their turns, singing their own songs and dancing their own steps.

COLMAN SCORES IN THRILLER

The mystery thriller has been lifted from the level of indiscriminate spine-chilling to that of an artistic vehicle in "Bulldog Drummond," the picture version of the famous stage play which Samuel Goldwyn brought to the State theater last night with Ronald Colman as star. Ronald Colman's masterly handling of a role that combines both romance and comedy, the swift action contributed by F. Richard Jones as director, and photography which matches in sheer appropriateness anything ever turned out in either Europe or Hollywood makes it a motion picture event.

In his second individual starring picture, Colman proves that he has been keeping a fine gift for comedy pretty well out of sight while he has been so eminently satisfactory in the past as a serious romantic lover. "Bulldog Drummond" gives him an opportunity to combine the two and marks a great advance in his development as an actor. Just as handsome and dashing as he ever was in "Beau Geste" or "The Night of Love," he handles the sudden transitions from swift action to flashes of comedy with consummate skill.

Mystery and horror are well combined in the famous story which made both a successful novel and a successful play, dealing with the operations of a gang of criminals whose long suit is torturing their victims through the fiendish ingenuity of Dr. Lakington, a physician who delights in inflicting pain. Bulldog Drummond is a demobilized British officer, seeking danger in order to escape from the boredom of peacetime. An advertisement in the newspapers, requesting trouble, brings him to Phyllis, the beautiful niece of a wealthy American who has fallen into the hands of the criminals and is being tortured to death in their fake sanitarium. Drummond's courage and dare-devil cleverness allow him to outwit the fiends almost single-handed.

Railways of Egypt are to be electrified.

The drawing-room tragedy that began in the dining-room

NOT SO many years ago she would only laugh gaily when asked the secret of her alluring complexion, sparkling eyes, radiant manner. She hadn't the slightest idea. But now, so unhappy over her wan, haggard face—her dull eyes and constant fatigue, she was as much at a loss to know why her beauty had gone. It couldn't be her diet... she was so careful about what she ate.

Unfortunately, her diet was to blame. For in her menus she had neglected to include dishes with that all-important element—roughage. The result was constipation which was poisoning her system—stealing her beauty.

What a pity so many women and men do not realize the value of roughage! And more—do not know that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—a delicious cereal—can supply roughage and bring sure relief from constipation!

Why ALL-BRAN is so effective

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes bulk in most generous quantity. This bulk absorbs moisture and distributes it through the digestive system. Gently exercising the intestines—sweeping out poisons. In a part-bran product there is seldom sufficient bulk to completely perform this work. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN works as nature works. How much better than habit-forming drugs whose dose must be increased—which may injure the system.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is an inviting cereal to eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added.

Use it in cooking—recipes on package. Mix it with other cereals. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Serve it in some form regularly and you will protect your family from dread constipation.

ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, cafeterias. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book "Useful Information." It will be sent you, FREE. Write The Phillips Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N. Y.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.—Adv.

(COOKING SCHOOL NEWS)

You taste milk. You test eggs. Now, taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Then you'll understand why Crisco's own sweet, fresh flavor so improves the flavor of your

Now—hasty hot breads!

Honey Bran Muffins

(Mixing time: 10 minutes)

Nature's oldest and purest sweet—honey—joins two other natural foods—fruit and whole wheat—in these quick muffins. And Crisco, the sweetest, freshest-flavored shortening you could possibly imagine, lends its freshness and pure flavor to the ensemble.

4 tablespoons melted Crisco
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup honey
1½ cups thick sour milk
1 cup whole wheat flour
¾ cup bread flour

2 cups bran
¾ teaspoon soda
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ cup raisins or chopped dates

Light and set oven at 375° F. (medium oven). Melt sufficient Crisco for recipe and to brush into muffin tins. Beat the egg, stir in the honey and sour milk. Sift the two kinds of flour with soda, salt and baking powder, mix with the bran and stir into the first mixture. Add raisins and melted Crisco and beat well. Fill Criscoed muffin tins half-full with batter. Bake in medium oven (375° F.) from 20 to 25 minutes. This makes 24 large muffins. I have reheated these muffins when they were a week old and found that Crisco had kept them fresh and moist.

These recipes have been tested and approved by cooking authorities. You will get best results by using level measurements and the ingredients specified.

Bishop's Bread

(Mixing time: 10 minutes)

If your grandmother ever entertained a circuit-riding preacher, she probably celebrated his presence at breakfast with Bishop's Bread, which in those days required twelve hours, or more, to prepare. Made of potato sponge, it was set to rise in an earthen crock, jealously guarded from drafts with a homespun blanket and baked in a brick oven.

Now you can make this same bread half an hour before breakfast by following this modernized recipe from Ohio. And from Ohio, by the way, comes Crisco—the sweetest flavored shortening I have ever used.

2½ cups bread flour
2 cups brown sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ cup Crisco
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 egg
¾ teaspoon soda
¾ cup sour milk
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Mix flour, sugar, salt and Crisco. Save ¼ cup of mixture for top crumbs. To remainder, add baking powder, egg, soda, sour milk and cinnamon. Beat briskly until batter is smooth. Pour into two Criscoed cake pans and scatter crumbs of original mixture over tops. Bake for about 25 minutes in hot oven (400° F.). If you want a richer bread, add chopped nuts and raisins to batter, and sprinkle extra cinnamon on top before baking. The Crisco will keep it fresh. Re-heating restores all the original softness!

Crisco is the registered trade-mark of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Co.

Highland Scones

A Scot from Aberdeen said these were better Scotch scones than Scotch scones—which was his way of being humorous and honest at the same time. A Caledonian viand with an American accent—speed; and with a delightful fresh sweet flavor imparted with a shortening that is itself sweet and fresh flavored—Crisco!

2 cups bread flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup milk
2 eggs
¾ cup grated American or pimento cheese

Blend Crisco with sifted dry ingredients. (No long process of cutting hard fat into the flour—Crisco is of workable consistency.) Stir in milk and eggs. Spoon dough onto oiled paper dusted with flour. Pat with hand to ½ inch thickness. Spread grated cheese over half the dough, cover with other half and press gently together. Cut into squares and then crosswise to form triangles. Brush with milk to give a rich brown glaze, and bake in a hot oven (450° F.) from 10 to 15 minutes. Serve while hot with salad or for tea. Add 2 tablespoons sugar to the recipe and spread dough with jam or marmalade instead of cheese and you'll have a delectable breakfast scone. Crisco's own fresh flavor insures a fresh flavor to these scones when re-heated.

The FOOD WASTED in many homes WOULD BUY THIS GENERAL ELECTRIC

That pint of milk which you wouldn't think of giving the children, the half-bottle of cream that's ever so faintly sour, the bowl of applesauce that doesn't smell quite sweet, the soup stock, the end of a leg of lamb . . . the countless left-overs that would make perfectly good dishes if you could only be sure they were safely fresh.

You can be sure. A General Electric Refrigerator will quietly and automatically maintain a temperature safely below 50 degrees. Left-overs will always be healthfully fresh . . . you'll have a generous supply of ice cubes whenever you want them . . . your current bills will be surprisingly low.

Keep track of the food you have to throw away for one week, multiply that figure by four . . . and then compare your result with the moderate monthly payment which will give you the perfect, health-guarding refrigeration which a General Electric assures. Remember that this is the only refrigerator which has an all-steel cabinet and an hermetically sealed mechanism. Come in today and get the whole story.

Potters Deny Charges

"That seemed to be his purpose," Koch's Data Attacked.
The activity of lobbyists for the pottery industry was the first subject taken up by the committee.
Koch first told of testifying before the house ways and means committee. He said his statistical data was attacked by Republican members of the committee, apparently because it did not justify an increase in tariff duties on pottery.

"After my appearance Mr. Burgess appeared before the commission and preferred charges against me," said Koch. "He claimed my testimony was prejudiced and biased."

Koch said his data related solely to "conditions and prices in the pottery industry." He said he never made any recommendation about rates. Subsequently, Koch added, the house ways and means committee ignored his testimony and raised the rates on pottery and then Koch told of appearing before the senate finance committee, which reduced the house rates.

"After that, Mr. Burgess was very active in trying to get me dismissed," said Koch.

Koch also told how H. R. Wyllie, president of a pottery company at Huntington, W. Va., had written President Hoover urging his dismissal. Koch said Wyllie charged him with being "against the best interests of his government, the pottery industry and labor."

Split on Rum Bill

Constitutionalists Divided.
The west is split equally wide open some cynically hoping that the measure will pass because they sincerely believe it will "kill prohibition," and others contending that it will merely extend the "evil of the present system."

The constitutionalists of the senate merely reflect this patchwork of divergent opinion. Their opinions were sought and obtained by International News Service today and disclosed some unusual differences.

"It is a very close question," said Senator William H. Borah (R) of Idaho, who is a dry among dries, referring to the constitutionality of the measure. "Undoubtedly, the supreme court will have to pass on it."

"I think it is constitutional," said Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana, another outstanding dry. "It would be a means of preventing the sale of liquor which the constitution forbids."

A directly opposite view was taken by Senator King (D) of Utah, another constitutionalist of the senate, and also a dry.

"I have very serious doubts as to the constitutionality of such a law as Senator Sheppard proposes," said King. "Congress cannot create crimes. It can only act under the powers granted it by the constitution. To make the purchase of liquor illegal would undoubtedly create a new crime. I do not believe congress has that power."

accredited with making the recent epochal visit of Premier MacDonald a possibility through the negotiations he launched immediately after his arrival in London, he flatly refused to discuss "official business."

Underlying Pipe in Teeth.
The general, a striking figure in a natty blue suit with white pencil striping, had between his teeth "the same old" underlying pipe that he was puffing on many months ago when he sailed to take over the ambassadorship. Its brightness and apparent newness baffled reporters, but General Dawes maintained that the pipe was the same one he was smoking when he sailed, and that he puffed on during his now historic conversation with Premier MacDonald at the latter's home in Lonsdale, Scotland.

"An ambassador," said General Dawes when pressed for a statement on the naval disarmament situation, "is simply an agent representing a nation, whose duty it is to transmit official news to the heads of his country."

"I cannot have anything to say concerning the naval negotiations or any other purely official business."

Ambassador Dawes said he intended to go first to Chicago, returning later to spend "a day or two" in Washington conferring with Secretary of State Stimson and President Hoover.

The absorbing interest with which the audience followed all these discussions and made notes of particularly striking pointers to be applied at home, was an impressive feature of the first session. No matter how long a woman has been baking cakes, there are little suggestions about measuring ingredients, baking, decorating and serving that are very welcome. It is this sort of thing that makes the cooking school worth while. Certainly no housewife thought Mrs. Northcross was going to give an exposition of all the art of cookery, no more than a business man attending a convention expects some one to explain how to run a business. It is the little, unusual hints that hit the nail on the head, that make these sessions instructive and enjoyable.

RHEUMATIC SUFFERER FINDS RIGHT REMEDY

"Owa-Ton-Na Did More Good Than Anything I Ever Used," Says Roy Selman.

Active work takes an active body, sluggish body functions gradually sap energy and vitality leading to disorders of kidney, liver and stomach, and oftentimes brings about rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general run down condition of health. Modern competitive effort demands extreme care of health. To do one's best the body must be fit. Mr. Roy Selman, 316 1/2 South Lake Erie street, Steubenville, Ohio, a local steel worker, tells his experience and how he checked disorders which were gradually robbing him of his health. He says:

MR. ROY SELMAN

"For the past three years I could feel I was losing my old time pop. My stomach was not functioning properly. Food did not seem to agree with me. Frequently headaches and indigestion caused distress. My appetite was poor. I would go to bed at night and after a good night's sleep I would be just as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. Rheumatism started to get a hold on my system causing me to suffer greatly. I tried many different medicines without results until I took Owa-Ton-Na."

"This fine old Indian Remedy has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. My stomach started to act better in a short time. My bowels now act regularly and I can eat anything I want without suffering with indigestion, gas and bloating spells. Once again I am getting back my old time pop and feel like doing a day's work. Rheumatic pains and aches are a thing of the past. I certainly recommend Owa-Ton-Na."

PHILCO

Adds to Its Famous Line
Screen Grid Plus!
A Super-Radio For People Who Want Super-Performance

A Challenge

Philco challenges any radio at any price to match these super features of the Philco Screen Grid Plus.

1. SUPER-POWER—To bring in hosts of far-away stations.
2. Extra sharp selectivity—to suit the most congested districts.
3. The standard Philco tone—marvelously rich, clear and true.
4. VOLUME! Almost auditorium volume without tone-distortion.
5. Automatic control of volume and fading.
6. Actual reduction of background noises including static and hum.
7. Simplicity of operation, as in all Philco models.

AND IN ADDITION

Philco Screen Grid Plus—

PHILCO SCREEN GRID PLUS gives you these entirely new features:

1. Automatic volume control, automatically reducing fading.
  2. Entirely new circuit which automatically reduces background noises including static. (And, of course, no hum.)
  3. New and literally enormous power, making it easy to get distant stations even in the daytime.
  4. New super-sharp selectivity over the entire dial, bringing in distant stations even in the midst of strong locals.
  5. Almost auditorium volume without tone distortion—the result of the entirely new multiplex detector circuit.
- The Philco Screen Grid Plus is a nine tube set built especially for people whose radio requirements are unusual. Enormous power. We are frank to say that many of its advantages are not needed for normal use. But to the radio owner who lives in a big city where local stations are bunched so closely that they tend to crowd out distant stations, the Philco Screen Grid Plus offers a new thrill by bringing in distant stations in spite of these adverse conditions.
- Daylight reception. And to radio owners who live in smaller towns at a distance from good broadcasting, Philco Screen Grid Plus makes daylight reception available, often for the first time, and offers in the evenings a far wider selection of programs than ever before possible.
- Fading automatically reduced. To both city and smaller towns owners who want distant station receptions, the automatic volume control of the new Philco is indispensable, because through this automatic volume control the tendency of distant stations to fade and swell is largely eliminated. Absolutely linear detection. To families who want almost auditorium volume for entertaining or dancing, the Philco multiplex detector circuit (the first absolutely linear detector circuit ever produced in any radio) makes possible very great volume without the slightest distortion. For the first time in any radio, it is impossible to overload the detector.

Background noises reduced. To critical music lovers seeking the utmost clarity of tone, the new circuit of the Philco Screen Grid Plus presents a considerable lessening of static and other interference noises. And, of course, no hum.

No blare. For people who dislike having strong local stations blare into the room as the radio dial is turned, the automatic volume control to a large extent equalizes the volume of strong and weak stations to whatever level you desire.

Best of all, these super features are automatic. No new controls have been added. Just plain, simple, single dial control.

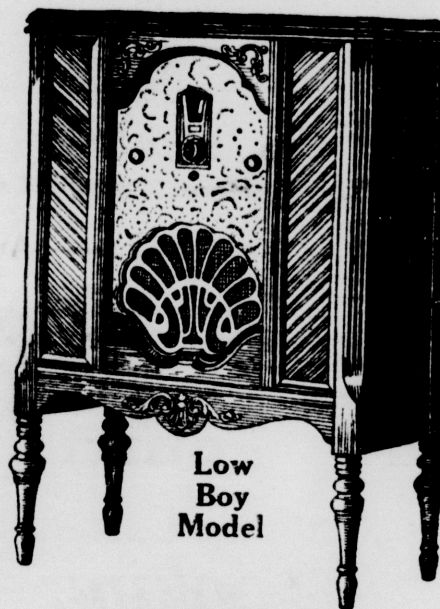

Like the Neutrodyne-Plus, the Philco Screen Grid Plus contains a built-in aerial for use wherever an external aerial is inconvenient.

Philco Screen Grid Plus is a truly super set, creating a new pride of ownership. And, in addition to its own special features, Screen Grid Plus retains all the advantages which make other Philco models so desirable.

The same wonderful true, clear tone which Philco achieves by exact balancing of electrical units is found in this new Philco, as well as in the famous Philco Screen Grid and Philco Neutrodyne-Plus.

The same handsome cabinets, designed by America's leading furniture designers, and executed in handsome but and Oriental walnut, bird's-eye maple, arbor-vitae burl.

The same extraordinary value giving at every price, and in every model from the compact table set to the luxurious highboy de luxe.

M'Donald P. T. A. Selects President

Mrs. Arnold McCombs Will Direct Activities Of Ninth Street Building Group; Supt. S. E. Daw Urges Better Reading.

WELLSVILLE, O., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Arnold McCombs was named president of the MacDonald building Parent-Teacher association at the first fall meeting of the association last night in the Ninth street building.

A program of music, talks and a demonstration by the rhythmic orchestra of the building, under direction of Misses Helen Round and Nell McCombs, featured the program.

Mrs. W. C. Lewis, president, turned over the gavel of the office to her successor at the close of the session.

An appeal to the members of the association to direct the reading of their children into worthy channels was made by Superintendent S. E. Daw.

Despite belief to the contrary, Supt. Daw pointed out that tests have proved the child is curious in the direction of the serious subjects of life and nature in general and when he comes to the parent with questions concerning such things, the latter should grasp the opportunity to provide reading of a timely character, assisting in every way possible the work of the school educators.

Mrs. J. S. McCulloch appeared before the association with a plea for support of the school board levy at the coming election, pointing out the need of funds to maintain the present high standards of the local schools.

Paul Skinner, principal of MacDonald building, explained ways and means of adding interest to P. T. A. sessions, recommending the social hour feature as adopted by associations of the kind in neighboring cities.

SUNDAY SCHOOL NAMES OFFICERS

Members of Sunday school class No. 7 of the First Presbyterian church were entertained last night at the home of Mrs. Anna Baddeley in Main street.

The class elected officers for the coming term, Miss Margaret Irwin being named president; Mrs. Ruth Thompson, secretary; and Miss Mildred Rabben, treasurer.

Luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. John White.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 8 in the home of Mrs. Jean McLean, Commerce street.

JUNIORS STAGE SCORELES TIE

Showing a world of improvement over their performance of a couple of weeks ago, Paul Skinner's eighth grade footballers battled to a scoreless deadlock with the Chester junior high squad yesterday afternoon at Central park.

The locals opened the season with the West Virginians and, playing at Chester, were defeated by four or five touchdowns. Since then they have polished off the rough spots and looked the part of a pretty good little football team in yesterday's game.

The locals are negotiating with Central of East Liverpool for their next game here.

SCOUTS WILL BE KIWANIS GUESTS

Frederick Banfield and Jack Catlett of this city who attended the International Boy Scout jamboree in Birkenhead, England, this summer, were honor guests at the Kiwanis club noon luncheon today.

L. A. Faloan and C. D. Platt, who attended the state convention in Marietta, made reports.

S. E. Daw, secretary, announced the county meeting scheduled for Oct. 19 in Lisbon.

B. L. E. AUXILIARY TO HOLD MEET

Members of the women's auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will convene tomorrow in the American Legion rooms, Main street.

An all-day session is scheduled with inspection of the unit as the principal business.

Luncheon will be served at noon.

cial rules for the relations of a husband with a rich wife, or grade the citizens according to wealth. We cannot understand that. Our civilization is younger, our "big men stand more in awe of ruler ship by the tribe."

H. G. WELLS, collaborating with Julian Huxley and George P. Wells, writes a series of articles on "the science of life."

He will ask the question, "what do we mean by life?" and, according to enthusiastic advertisements, will "answer questions that have puzzled humanity since the dawn of civilization."

THERE are about 1,800,000,000 human beings on earth, and nearly as many answers to "what do we mean by life?"

To a man on the Congo, life means hippopotamus meat, and fat wives.

To the Wall Street man, it means rising stocks, several automobiles and yachts.

To the scientist it means a look into the whirling atom.

To the pious it means something better when this life is done.

Nobody even knows what life is, what consciousness is, whence it came, how it works.

CAPTAIN NELSON GOSS of fier in the United States navy, says, "If we had to give up ships, one by one, undersea crafts should be the last one yielded. Invisible, they present constant threat and danger to any enemy approaching our coast. We lag, while other nations modernize fleets."

FORTUNATELY, while we officially talk about complete disarmament and naval reduction, we do go on building. The government has completed the submarine and mine-layer, V-4, said officially to be the world's biggest.

A miniature undersea INVISIBLE BATTLESHIP, V-4, carries 76 men, seven officers and can travel 19,000 miles without refueling.

Such a submarine could visit any port on earth, unseen, unknown, until ready to deliver Uncle Sam's reply to unprovoked attack.

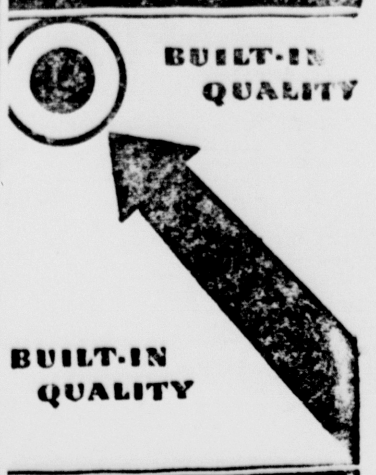

BRITAIN hates submarines, greatest menace to floating commerce on which the British islands depend for food.

But the British should be glad to see this country build the biggest submarine fleet on earth.

That fleet would never attack the British, for Britain is wise, and it might help, even without being used. Knowledge that it exists and is friendly to Britain, when Britain is right, would have great influence.

THE submarine, as Captain Goss says, "has become of even greater value since the modern development of aircraft, for it alone possesses a cloak of invisibility, which aircraft cannot uncover with certainty."

Fate and Base Wallops Combine to Beat Cubs

A's Spectacular Ninth Inning Rally Brings Mack First World's Baseball Title Since 1913.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—Outside, a city bereft of all reason shrieked its pean of joy, capering, gibbering, rioting with an abandon that was boundless. It had just been a witness of the most incoherent spectacle a world series ever had known, a chills and fever finish that had brought glorious victory and a world's championship to Philadelphia, tragic defeat and a sense of sickening disaster to Chicago.

Inside, the dressing room was dark and its vast quiet, by comparison, was ominous, newspapermen, callous souls usually, waited with unwonted consideration, their voices lowered to a respectful note. The curtain had been lowered for the last time. "Mule" Haas and "Bing" Miller, the stars of the piece, had bowed themselves off. Probably the greatest drama a world series ever had produced was over. And the old maestro, having outlived the years to see this day come true, was unable to take his curtain call. Connie Mack, the man who made the miracle possible, had collapsed in his hour of triumph.

Pays Tribute to McCarthy.
That was yesterday, when Haas hit a home run over the fence, tying the score with one out in the ninth inning, and Miller had followed with a double to right center, scoring Simmons with the winning run.

Today, the world, having indulged itself in its orgy of emotion, was at peace again and Connie Mack, himself once more, was able to make the certain speech that the choler of his advancing years had denied him yesterday. It was typical that his first word was a tribute to the rival manager, Joe McCarthy, and his second a frank admission that he had conceded this fifth game of the series to the Cubs and had been rehearsing his plans for a sixth game that never came.

That was how fine they drew this series, in spite of the fact that the Athletics won four of the five games and outbatted and outfielded the Cubs from first to last. They never outgamed the Cubs for one split second. And the half-raising finishes of Saturday and yesterday, far from disproving this declaration, actually sustains it.

On Saturday, the Cubs were in front, 8 to 0, going into the final half of the seventh inning and

Ceramics Schedule Eagles

Pros Face Youngstown Eagles Here Sunday.

HAVING mowed down Pennsylvania opposition with striking success to date, the East Liverpool Pros will try some of the Ohio brand next Sunday afternoon when they face the Youngstown Eagles on the local lot at Sherwood.

Coach Carney today announced practice sessions throughout the week in preparation for the week-end engagement.

Interest is increasing in the performance of the Pros as a result of their victories to date, including triumphs over Marshall Tech, Homewood and the Pleasant Valley Smilers, resulting in increased attendances at the games.

The pro type of football has peculiarities all its own, chief among which is the unexpected. While team play naturally is the principal objective, the performance of the individual is perhaps most striking than in other branches of the sport.

The locals have shown a well balanced proficiency to date. They have played three good teams and have yet to be defeated. They expect to add to the Youngstown combine to their list next Sunday.

STATE IN SHAPE FOR MICHIGAN

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15.—Unless some griddle should be injured in scrimmage this week, the Ohio State football eleven will charge into Michigan at Ann Arbor next Saturday in splendid condition.

Al Hess, who was injured in the Wittenberg game and who saw no action against Iowa here Saturday, reported for practice yesterday but he will, in all probability, not be fit to join in the attack on Wolverines. However all the other first-stringers are in tip-top form.

The varsity was given only a short signal drill by Willaman yesterday afternoon. However, he had the reserves engage in stiff scrimmage, with the hope of being able to discern another man or two who have real half-back ability. He could use them to add punch to his backfield.

BOOST BIG RED OFFENSE POWER

GRANVILLE, O., Oct. 15.—Denton team's offensive powers are believed to have been strengthened today by the action of shifting Steadman, an end to the backfield. Earl Rupp, of Tippencoe City, is filling the vacant berth in the forward wall. Light drill and a blackboard talk marked yesterday's practice session.

HARVARD TO BE SHY TWO STARS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 15.—Harvard will play its first big game of the season against the Army next Saturday, minus the services of two regulars and at least one substitute. Harper, fullback, and Douglas, end, are the regulars who will not see action against the Cadets due to injuries.

IRONDALE WINS FROM BERGHOLZ

IRONDALE, O., Oct. 15.—Irondale high gridders won their third consecutive game of the season here Saturday, beating Bergholz, 19 to 12. The Irons took the lead after the opening kickoff when Chetock, Irondale fullback, snared a Bergholz pass and raced 45 yards for a touchdown.

Immediately after the next kickoff, Bergholz opened an air attack which took the ball to Irondale's six-yard line where Rush, 180-pound Bergholz fullback, punched the ball across.

Irondale received and on the third play after the kickoff, Sprende tore around right end behind perfect interference for 55 yards and a touchdown. Early in the third period, Brown scampered through the Bergholz team from the 44-yard line to score and the extra point was good on a pass from Chetock to Staley.

Late in the fourth period, Orasko of Bergholz intercepted an Irondale pass and slipped away for a touchdown.

Rush, fullback, starred for the visitors. In the first half he tore off several gains through tackle and around end but ran into a solid resistance in the last. Chetock started in the Irondale backfield while Tice, Carman and Nimit were outstanding on the line.

Lots of "Kick."

Wittenberg has four good punters and three place-kickers for the season. Paul Pritznick, Herkimer, N. Y.; Roland Brown, Massillon; Stanley Plummer, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Charles Baker, Bucyrus, are the punters.

Potters To Meet New Foe

Face Erie East in Last Home Game for Month.

MEETING East high school of Erie, Pa., Saturday afternoon at Patterson Field, East Liverpool gridders will make their last appearance before home audiences for approximately a month.

The Pennsylvanians come as a new opponent on the Blue and White schedule, having been booked just prior to the beginning of the present campaign, and little is known of their past performances although their games this season indicates they will at least provide average opposition for the locals.

The Potters are scheduled the following week, October 26, at Bellaire.

The November 2 date then is permanently open. This position on the East Liverpool schedule formerly was occupied by Salem high but since the rupture in athletic relations between the two schools, the Quakers have been off Potter schedules, and vice versa.

With 10 games on the schedule, Faculty Manager J. M. Decker deemed it advisable to leave the date open this season and this is fortunate for the countless football fans of the city and district who expect to take in the Ohio State Pitt game on Nov. 2 at the Pitt stadium.

The Potters go to Martins Ferry Nov. 9 and that game will complete their downriver sorties for this year.

They perform again on the home lot on Nov. 16, with Chester providing the opposition Youngstown East on Nov. 23 closes the home card, the locals going to Wellsville Thanksgiving day for the annual event with the Orange and Black.

Fight Results

AT PHILADELPHIA:—Maxie Rosenbloom, New York, light heavyweight, won ten-round decision over Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo.

AT ROCHESTER:—Frankie Wine, Butte, scored a technical knockout in the third round over Kayo Brown, New York (10).

AT NEW ORLEANS:—Joe King, New Orleans, won 10-round decision over Jack De Mave, Newark.

AT LOUISVILLE:—Johnny Mason, Scranton, won 10-round decision over Norman Brown, Indianapolis.

AT WICHITA:—George Manley, Denver, won 10-round decision over Joe Packo, Toledo.

AT PITTSBURGH:—Tommy Freeman, Cleveland, won ten-round decision over George Levine, Brooklyn.

AT LANCASTER:—Joey Williams, Lancaster, won eight round decision over Johnny Ciferelli, Jersey City.

A's Good, But Breaks Helped Say Philly Stars, Here Today

O'Doul and Klein Aver Mack Worked His Pitchers Like a Crazy Quilt—But Got Away With it.

HOW would a couple of National Leagueers naturally view the result of the world series which ended yesterday when "Bing" Miller binged out a double to score the run that gave Connie Mack his first title since 1913?

"The Athletics had the breaks and luck rode on the bench with Mack,"

This, substantially, is the way that Frank "Lefty" O'Doul and "Chuck" Klein tell the story of the series.

O'Doul, the leading hitter of the National League, and Klein, champion home run swatter of the senior circuit, arrived last night, accompanied by Fred Hunter, Philly coach, for their exhibition performance this afternoon at Smith Field, Chester.

They will take part in a game between Chester and Laughlin clubs of the Inter-City League, O'Doul playing with one of the teams and Klein with the other.

When they affirm that Mack had luck and the breaks, they do not mean to detract one whit from the great performance of the Athletics.

For everyone familiar at all with baseball knows how the player values what is termed the "breaks." For instance, Mack Wilson's bout with old Sol and that pebble which deflected a hard drive down the third base line out of McMillan's mitt.

And the wily old Connie Mack worked his pitchers like a crazy quilt, they say and wax their heads—but he got away with it.

Who ever heard, for instance, of a slab star like Grove, who was doped, to be the A's big shot on the hilltop, coming out like a raw rookie for a few innings of relief duty?

But he got away with it, did this Connie Mack—with the aid of a batch of slingers who don't figure a game over even when they're eight runs behind.

The two National League stars concede that the battering Phillies had the Cubs on the defense most of the time.

And they have a good word for Joe McCarthy.

"McCarthy did everything he could," they say. And there's no one to dispute that.

McCarthy did it and it was no fault of his that Hornshy and some of the rest of the high power bludgeon swingers of the Cubs hit like busters.

O'Doul and Klein played a round of golf at the country club this morning and both swung pretty clubs.

At noon today they were guests of the Rotary club at lunch in the Y. M. C. A.

Gibbons, Solomen Matched

Foutts Completes Card For Valley A. C. Show Oct. 24.

WITH the signing of Mickey Solomen, New Castle favorite, as a main bout performer, Matchmaker Ray Foutts of the Valley A. C., today announced completion of his bill for his boxing program Thursday night, Oct. 24, in the city hall auditorium, Wellsville.

Solomen will put up his duking against T. N. T. Gibbons, now of Canton, in the eight-round main event.

The T. N. T. guy made one appearance in this district. That occurred last winter when he tackled Don Garcia at Wellsville and the bout ended when Gibbons stretched out Garcia with a couple of murderous socks to the jaw.

Bob Concrete, the Midland boxer, football and baseball player, is slated in the six-round semi-final with Joe Murphy, of New Castle, one of Jimmy Dime's lads. The weight is 162 pounds.

Johnny "Bad News" Morgan of Beaver Falls, who broke into the fight racket at New Brighton last summer, tackles Johnny Loren of Wierton, W. Va., in one of the four-round preliminaries.

And the old kid himself, "Polson" Pizzone, he of the concrete jaw, is paired with Kid Clendenenning of East Liverpool, in the curtain raiser.

LITTLE MONEY BET ON SERIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The 1929 world series which ended yesterday with Bing Miller's double saw less money wagered on the outcome than any post-season affair in history, Broadway commissioners declare.

In contrast with the Yankee-Card series in 1926 and the Yankees' battles with the Pirates and Cards in '27 and '28, where millions were wagered, very little money changed hands during the series just completed.

The betting commissioners attribute the light betting to the fact that the athletics were such strong favorites from beginning to end.

BISHOPS TO GET HARD WORKOUT

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 15.—Hard work and plenty of scrimmage is on tap for the battling Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan for the remainder of the week, Coach Gauthier declared in shaping his team which will meet Miami university Saturday. Several changes in the lineup were noticeable at the scrimmage yesterday, and Gauthier said that every berth in the Ohio Wesleyan eleven is open and will remain that way until 11 men who will fight to the last whistle can be found. After allowing Ohio university to hand in a licking during the past weekend, the Bishops are none too confident as to the outcome of the tussle with the Big Red team.

Cooking school Salads go home

Delicious combinations discussed in the school now delight hundreds of local families. And a salad can't be better than its dressing! Ivanhoe Mayonnaise, exclusively used at the school, is rich, creamy, pure—a wonderfully wholesome and tasty mixer. Golden eggs, ripe oil and pungent spices make Ivanhoe the "best" mayonnaise you ever tasted. Quarts, pints and half pints at the better grocers.

"Salad Leaves" is a new and different recipe book—recommended by the Cooking School Expert. Use the coupon for your copy.
